

The Cat and the Bed

Once upon a time, there was a cat. She loved to time travel. One day when she went to sleep, her bed time traveled. When she woke up, she was in an airplane, and she could choose where she wanted to go. And it turned out there were many lands; many, many lands.

There were writings on the airplane, but the writings were hard to read. She did not know what the writings meant, there were only colors and planets. So, she pressed the blue planet that was mixed with pink. That planet was called the Planet of Wave Palaces.

When she looked up, she saw a beautiful young woman staring at her. The woman said, "Hello, would you like to come to my dance class?"

The cat said, "Why, yes!"

The young woman said, "well, we'll need a beautiful dress for you." And she gave the cat a beautiful wave dress. The woman said, "this dance is called the traveling wave dance. We could use some people to play my special wave flute."

The cat said, "Why, I would love to play your special wave flute." So, the young woman took her to the dance class. The young woman said, "You will be playing the wave flute while dancing, and when you spin, you will give it to someone close to you." So, the cat spun and gave it to someone close to her. The dance was beautiful.

Many, many days passed in the dancing club, and then a big day came. It was supposed to be the day of their concert, but someone said, "Nobody ever said you could sing or dance here."

The young lady gasped, "Why, who are you?"

They said, "Why, I am the queen of the palace- well, the future queen anyways. But no one said you could ever sing or dance here."

The cat asked, "What are you the princess of?"

The princess said, "Well, the dark palace."

The cat said, "well, what do you do at the dark palace? Create evil schemes?" The cat gasped, "You're evil!"

The princess said, "of course I'm evil!"

The cat saw a fencing stick. The cat took the fencing stick. The princess took a fencing stick, too. The cat's fencing stick was magical, and eventually the cat sent the princess to a portal where she could never do anything again. But the princess called for a dragon to come down. A dragon with three heads. But the dragon did not want to fight them, the dragon wanted to be on the dancers' side. The dancers asked, "what is your name, dragon?"

The dragon said, "my name is Yee, and we need your help."

The cat asked, "what do you need our help with?"

The dragon said, "a brave princess name Sapphire was taken, and if we don't get there soon, she might appear in the realm of dreams."

The cat got back in her airplane, and she asked, "what planet is the princess on?" and the dragon said, "the planet of plants."

When the cat got out of her airplane, she saw someone looking around. They said, "Oh, I'm looking for the princess and the two cats that got taken with her."

The cat said, "don't worry, I can look for the princess." Then, she went to the castle where the princess was kept, and there were two cats outside of her room. The cats said, "the princess is in there, but if you want to help her, you'll have to hurry fast, the person who took the princess is working on a spell to turn her evil."

The cat ran into the room and saw the princess trying to break through the window and escape. But the cat said, "what happened to your hair, why is it so black?"

The princess said, "they turned my hair black, and if I don't get out of this tower soon, I'm going to turn evil!"

The cat used its claws to break through the window. They both jumped out of the window, and when they landed, the cat said, "It's time for me to go back to earth." The cat got back into her airplane and pressed the button that said "Earth," and when she got back to earth, she told her friends all about what had happened the day before.

